To remove the old net, unscrew only one side of the rod at the metal sleeve Y piece.
Pull off the old net.

Note: The new ring attached to end of the ropes may be smaller than your old plastic original. The new metal ring is to be placed over one end of the forks of the pole before replacing the rod back into the fork. Make sure your ropes are not crossed and that the white wheel inside the plastic locking device faces up.

Now slide on the new net taking care not to bend the rod any more than needed. It may take some wiggling and care. See the instructional video.

Install the new screws in the existing holes of the rod. Be gentle when driving in the screws since stainless is a very soft metal.
